COMPANY PROMISE:

Our Commitment to Deliver

"IMS was established in 1991 to assist the A/E/C community with their market research needs. The firm was built on the principles of providing a quality product based on our client's needs along with superior customer service. Today with the advent of the internet and data overload, our founding principles are even more critical for our client's success. As an integral part of our clients marketing effort we feel the obligation to always provide the most accurate, timely, focused research and project data available. Our methods and procedures continually change but our principles remain time proven."
